DUNCAN'S COMMENTS:
 With 1980 - 2000 revenue increases of over 500 % Seattle continues to be a very good major radio market. Viable stations have remained steady and listening levels have declined at an average rate. Listening to unlisted stations does appear to be gathering some momentum.
 KIRO has led Seattle in revenues since I began gathering such figures in 1984. In recent years KIRO's ratings have been in a decline. KIRO still is Seattle's most impressive station. Most of KIRO's ratings problems have been caused by KOMO and KVI. A successful commercial classical station always gets my attention and KING has qualified for over thirty years. Finally, KUBE has been a successful CHR since the early 1980's.
