DUNCAN'S COMMENTS:

Syracuse is a below average medium market. If the population falls to below 700,000 in the next few years Syracuse would be reclassified as a small market. Fortunately, the number of viable stations has remained steady.

WYYY has been the most impressive station in this market over the last three decades. It has survived as an AC despite the strong competition from WNTQ. WSEN also deserves credit for hanging in with an Oldies format.
